BANK LOSS SPARKS JOB FEARS

Report by Henry James

THE fall–out from the announcement of massive losses at the Co–operative Bank could have serious repercussions for West Lancashire.

Bosses at the troubled bank have refused to rule out redundancies at its Delf House base in Skelmersdale, where some 900 people are currently employed, after the company suffered a £709 million half–year loss.

Following the announcement of the huge losses at the bank, the group's chief executive, Euan Sutherland said job losses were "inevitable."

Last year the company said that it was staying in the town, but revealed it was no longer going to move to a new £20 million town–centre development as part of the new Skelmersdale town centre.

The Co–op group employs 100,000 people nationwide.

Announcing a plan for a four–year turnaround, Mr Sutherland said more details will be given at the company's AGM next May.

The losses at the bank have been blamed on their takeover of Britannia in 2009.

Mr Sutherland commented: "It is fairly inevitable that jobs will be impacted and clearly we will have to consult with those affected in the right way but it would not be right to put any more detail on that at the moment.

"There are no quick fixes here. This will be a challenging four–year turnaround that begins with our comprehensive plan to restore the bank to stability, which was agreed with the Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA), the banking regulator.

"We will build on that plan with a wider transformation of the group as a whole. My team and I have embarked on a strategic review that will lay the foundations for that.

"This will be a major transformation that will rely on the continued support of our customers, members and colleagues."

When contacted by The Champion a spokesman for the Co–operative Bank would not comment directly on the safety of jobs at its Skelmersdale base.

Men–Aces strike silver at Special Olympics

THE Skelmersdale Men–Aces' trip to the Special Olympic Games in Bath at the weekend ended in tears – tears of joy after they won a silver medal.

The town's football team for adults with learning difficulties overcame the setback of losing their opening game to fight back and get among the medals.

And the drama didn't end when they had finished playing their games.

After originally believing they had won bronze, they were overjoyed just before the presentation ceremony to discover that they had, in fact, struck silver, prompting an emotional outpouring of elation.

Hospital nursing chief defends recruitment

THE Deputy Director of Nursing at Southport Hospital has moved to dismiss suggestions that the hospital is not recruiting locally trained nurses.

It follows a number of letters being sent to The Champion asking why the hospital were overlooking trained nurses from nearby Edge Hill University and recruiting Portuguese nurses instead.

The Champion originally reported earlier this month (August 7) that the Trust had taken on ten Portuguese nurses to help care for local people.

Angela Kelly, Deputy Director of Nursing, said: "Your correspondent is wrong to suggest Southport hospital is not recruiting locally trained nurses.

"We work closely with Edge Hill University, recruiting nurses who are recently graduated and run a Trust preceptorship programme that supports their professional development.

"However, we need to balance the recruitment of newly qualified staff with nurses who are experienced on the wards.

"It is these nurses who are in short supply nationally."

Council turns to public in search for traveller sites

Report by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of the public are being urged to help the local authority to meet the needs of the travelling community by suggesting suitable places for them to stay.

West Lancashire Borough Council is looking for sites that have potential to accommodate the needs of travellers.

The authority is required by national planning policy to ensure that enough sites in West Lancashire are made available to meet the needs of the travelling community.

And council chiefs warn that if it doesn't comply with this obligation it would be more vulnerable to the establishment of illegal encampments and sites in the borough.

The lack of allocated sites would also weaken the ability of the council to take quick and effective action to secure the removal of such encampments and sites, it is claimed.

The council is looking for two types of sites.

One which could be used for travellers to base themselves throughout most of the year, or for travelling showpeople to live and store their equipment outside their touring season.

And another to meet the short–term transit needs of travellers who are passing through West Lancashire on their way to other destinations or choose to occasionally visit the area for short periods.

Councillor Martin Forshaw, the council's portfolio holder for planning, said: "We know that the issue of sites for the travelling community can be emotive and controversial. But this council needs to comply with the law, and so we are looking to find the best possible sites to meet West Lancashire's needs.

Consultation

"We are already aware of a number of potential sites, but in order to identify the best possible sites, we are asking landowners and the public to make us aware of any other sites that they may not know about that could be suitable."

Details of potential sites should be received by the council no later than Wednesday, October 2 and must be submitted on the official form.

The council will assess all sites received during this 'call for sites' exercise, using a set of criteria based on national policy for traveller sites.

The most suitable sites will then be short–listed, and will feed into a planning document that the council is preparing.

This document, which is expected to take until 2015 to complete, will allocate specific sites in West Lancashire for the travelling community and will be subject of a public consultation exercise before adoption by the council.

If anyone owns land or knows of a site that they consider would be a suitable site for travellers, the council is asking them to get in touch with details of the site.

The official 'call for sites' form is available on the West Lancs Council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/planningpolicy, from the council offices, or can be requested by phoning 01695 585274.

New chairman for village centre

HESKETH Bank Village Centre have appointed a new chairman.

Local resident Anthony Earles was appointed at the centre's annual general meeting, taking over from Terry Baldwin.

The meeting reviewed future development work plans for the site, including new disabled toilets and a facelift for the back hall exterior.

Mr Earles said: "We have come a long was in the two years I have been on the village centre committee. With the help of the parish council we have rejuvenated the front gardens, revamped the parking area and installed a multi–use games area, which is popular with our younger residents.

"I hope to head up a continued development of the site for the enjoyment of residents and visitors to Hesketh Bank."

Jessica's poignant 'special mission'

Dancer's perfect world was shattered when her healthy boyfriend died from sudden adult death syndrome now she aims to help spare others the heartache by raising awareness of the condition

By Henry James

A PROFESSIONAL dancer whose healthy boyfriend "went to sleep and just didn't wake up" has made it her own 'special mission' to keep his spirit alive by raising awareness of sudden adult death syndrome (SADS).

Life seemingly couldn't have been more perfect for Jessica Hill, from Skelmersdale, with a dream career and a loving boyfriend, Matt Beadle.

But all that changed overnight when 32–year–old Matt went to sleep and never woke up.

Set up on a blind date by a mutual friend in 2008, former Up Holland High School pupil, Jess and Matt were a perfect match.

Both were performers, dancing in shows and musicals around the world. And although this meant they often spent months working apart, Jessica says: "Our relationship felt so solid that we supported each other through everything, chatting every day on the phone and emailing and Skyping as often as we could."

Emotional

Last February, Matt landed his dream job in Starlight Express in Germany and Jess got a job on a cruise ship. They shared an emotional farewell, knowing it would be the last time they'd see each other for months, but being apart was easier to swallow knowing that we were both doing what they loved.

Then six months into their contracts, Jess, who was docked in Canada at the time, got a text one morning asking her to call a number for a message about Matt.

She said: "He'd been on a stag do in Las Vegas and LA and my first thought was he's missed the flight. At the very worst, I thought he might have got really drunk and done something stupid."

It was only when she got through that she realised it was Matt's parents' number.

"Make sure you have someone with you", his dad told me calmly. "Matt's died. He went to sleep and just didn't wake up."

Matt had gone to bed feeling unwell and, in the morning, his friends couldn't wake him up. Nobody knew anything more.

All Jess wanted to do was go home to her family and she flew to the UK the day after, collapsing into her parents' arms at the airport.

An autopsy revealed Matt had died from sudden adult death syndrome – when a seemingly healthy adult has a hidden condition that leads to sudden cardiac death.

Devastating

The doctors diagnosed Brugada syndrome, a heart problem that could have been genetic or specific to him. He may have got it through a virus, but no one will ever know.

Jess said:"Losing Matt with no warning signs was devastating. One day you have everything to live for and the next you've got nothing.

"Looking through our old messages, I saw he'd been complaining of chest pains, but we'd dismissed them.

"If I'd known about the cardiac risk, I would have made him go and get himself checked out, but it was easy to brush them off because he was so fit and healthy.

"We both drank, but he'd never touched drugs or cigarettes – which a lot of people wrongly assume caused his death."

Around 12 people under the age of 35 die of SADS each week in the UK and it is more prevalent in young males although it's not yet known why.

After Matt's death, Jess became involved with Cardiac Risk in the Young (CRY), a charity with clinics all over the UK, where people can have ECG tests whether they have cardiac problems in their family, symptoms or are just worried.

She has also made her friends and family get tested and has done concerts to raise money and awareness for CRY.

Solicitors put their shirts on Men–Aces

TEAM members from the Skem Men–aces football team have another reason to celebrate following their silver medal success in the Special Olympic Games (see story, Page 5).

For the team are going to be supplied with new kits, thanks to Scott Rees & Co solicitors.

Earlier this year a team from Scott Rees played the Men–Aces in a friendly fixture where an instant bond was formed and now the Skelmersdale solicitors firm has developed this further by agreeing to sponsor them to the tune of £1,000, which will be used to fund a brand new kit for the team.

Carl Eaton, who manages the Men–aces, announced the news at their presentation evening which was attended by all of the players and a few special guests.

Former Liverpool FC legend Chris Lawler spoke about how it was a nice gesture for the firm to help the Skem Men–aces.

Attending on behalf of Scott Rees & Co was legal assistant Jamie Hornby, who arranges the firm's football team for such events and he was instrumental in helping the Men–aces choose their new kit.

He said: "Obviously it is great to be involved in such a worthwhile project as it is such a fantastic club. We really enjoyed playing against them a few weeks ago and that endeared us to what the Skem Men–aces are all about."

Scott Rees & Co.'s marketing partner David Byrne added: "We are delighted to be sponsoring the Skem Men–aces for their forthcoming season.

"The direction they are going in is fantastic and we fully believe in helping the local community as and where we can."

Youngsters set to tackle river clean–up

Report by Henry James

A GROUP of youngsters from Skelmersdale have made a bid to clean up the town's River Tawd.

The teenagers are part of the Challenge Network, which is a scheme set up by the National Citizens Service for young people and has a base in the borough at West Lancashire College.

There are 10 young people in the group, aged between 16 and 17, and they have called themselves Team Reiss.

Their aim is to make a change in the environment and the community.

Anna Sockett, 16, speaking for the group said: "The team I am involved with had three ideas and they were: to tidy up the centre of the town's roundabouts, help older people and clean up the Tawd. The Tawd option was the most popular.

"We aim to clean it up. It is dirty at the moment and there is no greenery there.

"The place is very run down and not what it was like in the past. We have been told it used to be a good place for picnics."

The team will be carrying out their clean up of the Tawd on Saturday, September 21, between 10am and 2pm.

"On the day we will be splitting into groups to do the work," Anna added. "We all want to make the Tawd eyecatching.

"The group is excited to be involved in this community project and are pleased that we can make a difference to the environment."

Last chance to have your say on council measures package

Report by Danielle Thompson

LOCAL residents and organisations are being urged by West Lancs Council to give their views on a package of measures of savings, efficiencies and increases in income, before the consultation closes next Wednesday, September 11.

People and organisations can give their views through the Your Views section of the West Lancs Council website website.

Comments can also be submitted by letter or email.

The main proposals on which people's views are sought are as follows:

• Introducing charges for replacement wheelie bins

• Increasing some fees and charges in line with inflation

• Budget streamlining in leisure and technical services, planning, housing and regeneration, and member services to make efficiency savings that do not impact on customers

• Restructuring of internal audit to reduce costs

• Reducing spending on food safety inspections in accordance with a reduction in Food Standards Agency (FSA) requirements, and reduced health promotion work

• Taking £474,000 from reserves

Councillor David Westley, the council's portfolio holder for finance, said:"We're trying to balance the need to save money and increase income with the wish to maintain services for residents and reduce any impact on them.

"However some of the proposals will have some impact and I urge people to give us their views before we make final decisions."

The council is seeking views from both individuals and organisations.

It is writing to local voluntary and community groups, businesses and public and private sector organisations to publicise the consultation.

However, it is stressed that the consultation is open to all. Any organisation can complete the survey, whether or not they receive a letter, and all residents can take part.

Views wanted on housing services

TENANTS can have their say on West Lancs Council's housing services at events in their area.

The council's Tenant Involvement Team is taking an exhibition trailer to various parts of the borough to make it easier for people to talk about any housing issues they have.

As well as speaking to staff, there's a chance to talk to other tenants and give their views on how services can be improved.

Tenants will also be able to get a wide range of information about housing services.

Councillor Val Hopley, portfolio holder for landlord services, said: "The council wants to continue to develop and improve services by offering tenants a number of ways they can get involved and have their say on housing. By working together we believe that we can provide an improved service."

All the events take place between midday and 4pm. The trailer will be on Taylor Avenue, Ormskirk, today (Wednesday, September 4); opposite Burscough Health Centre, Stanley Court, on Wednesday, Sept 18; and on the residents' car park at Gorse Close, Tarleton on Wednesday, Sept. 25.

For more information contact Emma Routledge or Francesca Blundell on 01695 585184.

If you would prefer a member of the tenant involvement team to come to your home while they are in your area for an event call 01695 585184 in advance.

These events are part of a rolling programme. The team will visit every part of the borough to give all tenants easier access to officers.

Tears of joy as Skem Men–Aces take silver

Report by Henry James

THERE were tears of joy as the Skem Men–Aces disability football team struck silver at the Special Olympic Games.

After months of preparation, the side – made up of Ian Crotty, Paul Scott, Carl Washington, Ricci Flynn, John Duckers, George Sealeaf, Christopher Bromwell and Alan Dale – returned from the event Olympic heroes.

This was the side's first experience of Olympic competition and manager, Carl Eaton, said: "Never in our wildest imagination did we expect to come away as silver Olympians."

This year's Summer Games was held at the University of Bath with 1,700 athletes, 600 coaches, 120 sports officials and more than 500 event volunteers heading to Bath and Bristol. The games ran from August 28 till September 1.

Skem Men–Aces' first game was against a Scottish side, which they lost 2–1, and Carl admitted: "This was a real nerve–jangler. But over the next couple of days our Olympians fought back with guts, passion and determination with a succession of wins to put us back in medal contention."

And on their final day the Men–Aces beat a side from the South West then drew 1–1 with from the West Midlands ensuring they had won bronze.

"Screams, tears and sheer jubilation engulfed us as the reality hit us that we had just won the bronze medal," added Carl.

"We went back to the dining area for our evening meal before the presentation was to begin but then my mobile rang. It was the North West head of delegation to say our bronze had turned to silver on the goals–against rule.

Christopher Bromwell proudly shows off his silver medal Code NA

"Tears of joy totally overwhelmed us and as word went through the dining area congratulations, pats on the back and hugs were in abundance.

"With chests out and heads held high the lads stepped up to the Olympic podium and Everton legend Derek Mountfield presented them with their silver medals. Tears flowed once again as the realisation that Skelmersdale had its very own Silver Olympians. Our heroes arrived home to be greeted by a sea of supporters and good luck messages.

"All this would have never been possible if it had not been for the generosity of the Skem community and surrounding businesses. Sincere thanks goes to each and every one."

MP backs decision not to rush into Syria raid

By Henry James

WEST Lancashire MP, Rosie Cooper has condemned the use of chemical weapons in Syria but has backed the decision not to rush into military action against President Bashar al–Assad's regime.

Ms Cooper was speaking after MPs last week rejected Prime Minister David Cameron's call for the UK to join the US in launching attacks on the crisis–torn Middle East country in the wake of the alleged use of chemical weapons by giovernment forces on civilians.

The borough's Labour MP, who was not able to attend the Commons vote due to family illness, said: "The use of chemical weapons in Syria, causing the deaths of and injuries to civilians, is deplorable.

"However, we need to allow the United Nations weapons inspectors time to do their work and gather evidence.

"I do not believe we should rush into military action – that is a lesson we must learn from Iraq."

A chemical weapons attack in Damascus on August 21 killed nearly 1,500 people, including more than 400 children.

The CIA believe the Assad regime was behind the attack, however the Syrian government they deny this and claim rebel forces in the bitter civil war were to blame.

Green light for 20mph limit on school roads

But safety campaigners say it isn't enough

Report by Danielle Thompson

PLANS to cut the speed limit on roads in West Lancashire with primary or high schools on them have been given the green light – but safety campaigners say the move doesn't go far enough.

All of the roads in the borough which have a school on them have had their speed limit cut to 20pmh as part of the government's national initiative to reduce the number of road accidents involving children and young people.

Consultation on the initiative has closed and the signs have been implemented for all of West Lancashire, except Roby Mill Church of England Primary School in Ormskirk, which is the only school not to have had their signage updated yet although a decision report is being drafted.

The speed limits will be permanent, although their effectiveness will be monitored.

West Lancs Labour MP Rosie Cooper said: "I very much welcome the introduction of 20 mph zones outside our schools.

"Throughout my time as MP I have campaigned for improved road safety. I've had to deal with cases of road traffic accidents and even fatalities, which have involved school children. Any steps to make our roads safer should be supported.

"There is the issue, though, of enforcing these new speed limits. Drivers need to know there will be consequences for not sticking to the 20 mph speed limit. We need to ensure that these 20 mph zones can and do make a difference in improving safety outside the school gates for children and parents."

The roads around schools and in residential areas are being altered nationally but the majority of commuter routes and major roads will be largely unaffected to keep traffic moving.

Meanwhile, Anna Semlyen, campaign manager for national speed restriction campaign group, 20's Plenty for Us, says the measures don't go far enough.

She said: "If you love children or really care about their safety, then you would want all residential areas, all the smaller zones, to be 20mph.

"If you make a school road 20mph, that it realistically going to be about 17% of a child's journey to school – which doesn't help those who walk or cycle to school, only those who are dropped off.

"To make sure they are safe you need a wide–area policy so they are safe on the full journey – and children are just as likely to be hit by a vehicle on their own road.

"If you put a big 30 sign up, it is just saying speed up, just as children journeying to/from school are most vulnerable!"

Police appeal for information after 'violent robbery'

POLICE are appealing for information following a "violent robbery" in which a man was hit over the head with a metal bar.

The attack took place at about 4.50pm on Wednesday, August 21 when the 20–year–old victim was walking through the subway that runs under Tanhouse Road in Skelmersdale.

He walked past three men stood in the subway without incident but as he left the subway he was approached from behind and hit over the head with what is believed to be a metal bar before being punched and kicked.

The three men took the victim's iPod and loose change from his pocket before he managed to run away.

One of the subways running under Tanhouse Road.

DC Adam Burke said: "Fortunately the victim wasn't seriously hurt but this was an extremely violent robbery and he has understandably been left shaken by the ordeal.

"If anybody witnessed this robbery or has any other information, I would urge them to contact CID on 101 quoting log number LC–20130821–1133."

One of the attackers has been described as white, around 20 years of age with facial stubble and black hair. He was wearing a blue hooded Adidas jacket, grey jogging bottoms and black Nike 110 trainers.

Another has been described as white, wearing a black North Face coat and tracksuit bottoms.

Anyone with information can also contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Power lines made safer for migrating birds

Report by Henry James

THE skies above West Lancashire are now safer for thousands of migrating birds after more than 150 special flight diverters were fitted to power lines near a Burscough wildlife sanctuary.

Engineers from Electricity North West have been working with the Wildfowl & Wetlands Trust (WWT) at Martin Mere to help raise the visibility of overhead powerlines for the 30,000 pink–footed geese and whooper swans which migrate to the area every year from Iceland.

The project aims to reduce the risk of birds flying into the 1.6km of live electricity lines near the reserve by putting two types of bird diverters – special attachments to the lines – to ensure the cables stand out to large birds which have poor manoeuvrability.

Steve Cox, future network manager for Electricity North West, said: "We hope that the diverters and our subsequent research will go on to help birds and electricity customers across the UK.

"By working closely with WWT Martin Mere we discovered this was a sensitive section of the network as it was located in a known flight path and we are delighted to be able to help protect these wonderful birds.

"By limiting the chances of any collisions, the special diverters will also reduce any possible impact on customer power supplies."

Martin Mere centre manager, Nick Brooks, commented: "Over autumn and winter Martin Mere is home to up to 30,000 pink–footed geese and 2,500 whooper swans.

"We work closely with local farmers to keep a lot of the birds on site during the day but inevitably some do fly off to local areas and this project with Electricity North West is invaluable to ensure both the safety of the swans and geese as well as ensuring the local community are not affected by these large numbers of birds through power cuts – they can simply enjoy watching and hearing them overhead."

The diverters fitted to power lines

West Lancs MP, Rosie Cooper, said: "I congratulate Electricity North West and Martin Mere on working collaboratively on the installation of these special diverters. I am sure there will be many positive lessons learnt from this project that can be successfully applied in other areas with similar issues.

"Having worked with both Electricity North West and Martin Mere on this issue the investment in this project is to be welcomed to better protect local residents power supply and improve wildlife safety."

Sarah steps into Empire spotlight

By Henry James

A TALENTED teenager has taken a giant step towards her dream of a career in the performing arts by appearing at one of the North West's top entertainment venues.

Sarah Dickson from Skelmersdale beat off competition from a huge number of budding young local actors and actresses, aged between 11 and 21, to land a role in the Stage Experience production of Grease at the Liverpool Empire.

Stage Experience is an annual community project that gives local youngsters the chance to perform with a professional creative and technical team.

And the 16–year–old, a member of the Ormskirk Pleasure Folk drama group, was overjoyed to win the part of Miss Lynch, the feisty and demanding headmistress who considers herself 'hip'.

Sarah said: "I had the best two weeks of my life and would like to offer a big thank–you to the creative team for the opportunity to perform on the Empire stage."

The former pupil of Glenburn Sports College in Skemersdale intends to study theatre/drama and dreams of pursuing her dream of a career in the performing arts.

And the young actress has attracted glowing reviews for her performance in Grease with trade magazine, What's on Stage, commenting: "Sarah's representation of the strict Miss Lynch demands attention with an impressive powerful voice and presence."

Meanwhile, fellow members of Ormskirk Pleasure Folk who went along to performance of the show to suppport Sarah, were also full of praise for the youngster.

Sarah Dickson Code NA

The group's advertising officer, Michelle Hopwood, said: "Sarah has a great passion for performing and is always dedicated to her parts within a production.

"She is always on hand to assist younger members of the cast, as well as offering support to older and new members.

"Sarah has been an integral part of Pleasure Folk for many of our shows and we are pleased to have her in our lead role for our upcoming panto."

This year's Pleasure Folk pantomime, Jack and The Beanstalk, with Sarah playing Jack, will be staged at Ormskirk Civic Hall from Saturday, November 30 to Wednesday, December 4.

Author goes back to childhood roots

Writer of thrillers set in a sleepy Lancashire village returns to 'the scene of the crime'!

By Henry James

AN author who first put pen to paper as a schoolboy in West Lancashire is set to return to the area as part of a whistle–stop of libraries.

Originally from Liverpool, thriller writer, Ian McFadyen, spent most of his childhood in Parbold and went to school in Ormskirk.

Now the author, who has had four books published to date with another in the pipeline, is returning to his roots to talk about and read extracts from his work.

His Lancashire library tour timetable includes: Monday, September 23 – Burscough (2pm), Tarleton (4pm); Wednesday, September 25 – Ormskirk (10am), Skelmersdale (midday); Thursday, September 26 – Parbold (10am), Up Holland (11.30am).

McFadyen released 'Deadly Secrets' in April this year.

Described as "another gentle, sinister whodunit", this is the fourth in a popular series of crime novels featuring DI Steve Carmichael.

The gripping tale of murder and mayhem is set in the sleepy Lancashire village of Moulton Bank – which is based on Parbold.

Before becoming a professional writer in 2000, Ian McFadyen enjoyed a successful career in marketing. He currently lives in Hertfordshire with his wife and his pet retired greyhound.

Blair's government initiated privatisation but now it's up to all of us to fight to save NHS

Mr Welsh is only partly accurate in what he says ('NHS belongs to the people – don't allow it to be sold off', Letters, July 31).

It is not the Tories that initiated the privatisation of the NHS, unless you go back to the late 1980s.

Private Finance Initiatives came from Tony Blair's government. The Tories have merely continued it.

Successive governments from the 1980s onwards have been looking for ways to ditch the NHS or to reduce its costs significantly.

He is correct when he says the NHS belongs to the people, so why don't they fight for it.

Our local hospitals are about to become Foundation Trusts. In theory this will give the people more say in how they are run. Becoming a Foundation Trust removes the cap on the amount they can earn from private treatments so immediatly there will be a two–tier system.

If you wish to protect them then join the Foundation Trust by contacting the FT office at Southport Hospital and signing up to be involved. Get behind the elected governors, tell them what you want from the hospital and, most of all, support them.

Do not believe that we live in a democracy, we don't, except maybe one day in every five years and that is polling day.

If you don't believe me try getting rid of your sitting MP.

It needs every single one of us to fight for the NHS or I believe it won't exist in its present form in five years time.

Remember, while you may not need the NHS at present you almost certainly will at some time in your life

Mr D. Patmore, Up Holland

Integrated rail link would bring Skem into 21st Century

I write with regards to the railway coming to Skelmersdale.

In one of the monthly railway magazines there is a small article about an investigation into the opening up of a rail link to Skelmersdale, possibly to Ormskirk, re–laying the old trackbed at a cost of £31 million.

The findings will be published next September, 2014.

Hopefully they will include opening the two Burscough curves so the Preston train can then call at Burscough Bridge thus linking Southport and Wigan, then on to Ormskirk and finishing at Skelmersdale.

This would also open up different train paths, if desired.

In Skelmersdale what would be needed is a bus service linking the train service, so passengers could get to and from the train, with a seven–day service and a likewise bus service.

This would bring Skelmersdale into the 21st Century, not in some backwater where it languishes now.

This 'parking surveillance by camera' move is the latest scourge of the motorist

I read with disgust your recent story about the move by the owners of the Two Saints car park to bring in a camera–based system to enforce charges.

What are they trying to do, turn Ormskirk into a ghost town?

The fact that cameras cannot just be put up willy–nilly and would be subject to planning consent would suggest that West Lancashire Borough Council has had an involvement in this thoroughly deplorable plan.

Even Blue Badge holders are dragged into this enforced plan and furthermore it is apparently going to be a 24/7 operation.

Traffic wardens and parking officials have never been the most liked people in any town centre but this really does 'take the biscuit'.

The apparent saving grace, and a very magnanimous gesture at that, is that the first hour free parking would appear to be going to remain.

Precarious

This type of parking surveillance by number plate recognition cameras and the link to DVLA is the new scourge of the motorist.

And segregating the two parking areas with a barrier will create a situation that will prevent shoppers from going from one parking area to the other and if spaces are not available they will be forced out of the car park and into a southerly direction rather than an escape across and out of the entrance/exit at the rear of Tesco.

I fail to see how more parking spaces could be created, unless they are the three, maybe four, that will be where the passage from one to the other currently exists. In any event, two of those would be in a most precarious position with the passage of incoming traffic.

John Shepherd, via email

Extended bar hours equals more misery for residents

I wish to register my strong personal objection to the application for an extended hours licence by the students union at Edge Hill for the bar on site.

This is unacceptable. Other licensed premises have been denied opening till 3am, why should this premises be different?

There are severe problems in Ormskirk due to alcohol–fuelled incidents and an Early Morning Alcohol Restriction Order (EMRO) is under consideration. What happens to the Silent Students Happy Homes (SSHH) campaign if this application were to be allowed?

These opening hours encourage students to drink. I thought they were at university to study.

It appears the students union are not considering the health and wellbeing of their students but intent on making a ' fast buck or two' to the detriment of not only their own students, but also to residents in Ormskirk.

Residents will suffer longer and later hours of 'ASB' if this application is allowed.

TV licence warning for new students

By Danielle Thompson

DON'T get a fine, get a licence!

That's the message to university students with the new academic term just around the corner.

With this year's intake of freshers due to arrive at Edge Hill students are being warned to sort out their TV licence before they move away from home – or they could get hit by a whopping £1,000 fine.

TV Licensing is working with UCAS to help new students at the Ormskirk university to understand the law around watching TV before moving into halls or rented student accommodation.

Students need to be covered by a TV licence to watch or record programmes as they are being shown on TV, on any device. Anyone caught watching TV without a TV Licence can face prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000.

Paul Williams from TV Licensing said: "Starting university for the first time can be both exciting and daunting. With so much to think about, TV Licensing is on hand to clearly explain when a TV Licence is needed.

"A TV licence can be bought online in minutes and costs £145.50 for the year. There are many ways to pay, including weekly, monthly and quarterly payments.

Students could get hit by fines for watching TV without a licence Code NA

"Finance–savvy students who move out of their term time address over the summer could be eligible for a refund of around £36, as long as your licence is still valid for at least three full calendar months and you don't need it again before it expires."

County council approves new bus stop

A NEW bus stop has been installed on Grimshaw Lane in Ormskirk.

The new stop, outside house numbers 43 and 45, will make it easier for elderly and disabled residents living nearby to travel to and from Southport, Wigan and Skelmersdale on the hourly 375 service.

County Councillor Nikki Hennessy, who represents Ormskirk West, said: "This will make it much easier for local residents, particularly those who are elderly or disabled, to get around, providing improved access for bus services. Many people go shopping in these towns and will now have a much shorter walk home with heavy bags."

The new stop was approved by County Councillor John Fillis, cabinet member for highways and transport.

Starting school in September 2014?

There always seems to be so much to remember when your child is starting at primary or secondary school.

As a parent you're always busy, what with trying to juggle work and personal life, caring for your children and keeping them entertained – but have you applied for a school place?

Staff at Lancashire County Council are keen to remind parents of all children starting school in September 2014 that they need to complete and submit an application, even if the child has an older brother or sister at the preferred school.

Submitting an application has never been easier. You can apply online through Lancashire County Council's website, www.lancashire.gov.uk by searching under 'school admissions'.

The website provides a wealth of information about admission criteria, an online application form that takes you through the process, and tips on how to fill it in.

Paul Bainbridge, Lancashire County Council's head of school admissions, said: "We want to remind parents that they can now make an application for their child if they are starting school in September 2014.

"It's quick and easy to apply online and the website includes lots of easy-to-follow information.

"There is also an admissions helpline if you need a hand with your application."

If you're thinking about school admissions, here are some tips that will help you along the way:

- Remember the deadlines for applications. For children starting in September 2014, the deadline for secondary school applications is Thursday 31 October 2013, while primary applications must be received by Wednesday 15 January 2014. If you apply late, it's less likely that your child will be allocated a place in your preferred school.
- If your child already has an older brother or sister at school, it doesn't mean that they will get a place automatically. You still need to make a formal application. If you have twins starting school, you need to make two separate applications.
- Once you have made your application, make sure you use the same email address throughout the process. You also need to choose a password you can easily remember.
- Make sure you study the admission criteria for each school carefully before expressing your preferences. These are available on the county council's website or from the schools themselves.
- If you are applying for a faith school for your child, you will need to fill in a 'supplementary information form' in addition to the standard application.
- If you live outside the area covered by Lancashire County Council, but want to apply for a school within the Lancashire area, you must apply through your local education authority. For example, you will need to apply via Blackburn with Darwen or Blackpool councils if you live in those areas, but want to send your child to a school inside Lancashire's boundaries.
- Similarly, if you live in Lancashire you need to apply to Lancashire County Council if you would like your child to attend a school outside the county.
- It is not possible to track the progress of your school application once it has been completed. All application information will be issued at the same time. For parents who have applied online, primary school admissions results will be available Wednesday 16 April 2014.

Secondary school results will be available on Monday 3 March 2014. You should be able to view the results online at approximately 6pm on these days.

Experts from the school admissions teams are on hand to answer any questions you may have and provide advice about the admissions process.

Paul added: "It is daunting for anyone whose child is beginning school, particularly if it's the first time they have applied.

"We're here to help and our friendly staff will be on hand to answer any questions you may have. If you're not sure – just ask!"

For those that are not able to use the online system, forms can be requested from the schools admission service.

As well as from the council's website, you can find out more by calling their area based teams as follows:

Town to stage third Apples for Eggs event

Just some of the produce which featured at the July Apples for Eggs food swap event in Ormskirk Code NA

By Danielle Thompson

ORMSKIRK is all set to welcome its third Apples for Eggs community food–swap event on Sunday, September 8.

The 'Late Summer Swap' will be held at Brookes Bistro, Aughton Street from 9.30 to 11.30am but would–be swappers must register first to participate.

Food swapping is a collaborative, community–based activity. Essentially, a group of home/allotment producers get together for a couple of hours with some of their goodies and swap them for other items made or grown by other people in a sociable setting. No money changes hands, the currency is your produce.

The town's initial Apples for Eggs event, staged at Brookes Bistro, at the end of April was a great success.

And the second, at the same venue in July, also went dwn well with a variety of home produce, ranging from granola, soups, sauces, cakes, bread, eggs, fruit and vegetables being swapped.

Event organiser, Lucy Mahood, said: "People shared seedlings and as always there was a generous and welcoming spirit.

"One lady who just brought eggs from her rescued hens went home with a lovely mix of produce to stock up the larder, fridge and freezer.

"Everyone who attended said they thoroughly enjoyed it and wanted to know when the next one will be!

"Some people had been to swaps before for others it was their first time. Some people brought a lot of items and others just small, home–baked batches but could participate and it was a really fun event.

"The news of food swapping and Apples for Eggs is still spreading. We're really pleased that Ormskirk is one of the first towns to be on the food–swap map".

"And we're hoping interest will continue to grow once we're featured in the Great British Food Magazine in October."

The food swap is free to attend but places are limited and must be pre–booked.

To register for the swap on Sunday, September 8 visit www.applesforeggs.com or contact Lucy on 07773399735.

The Switch Island motorway junction

Motorway project to repair potholes

A MOTORWAY project will soon get underway which will target potholes and surface cracks along a 12–mile section of the M58 between its junction with the M57 at Switch Island and junction 26 where it joins the M6 at Orrell.

The £600,000 month–long project by the Highways Agency will be done overnight and will also include renewing road studs and worn road markings.

The work, which starts on Sunday, September 15 and is due to be completed by Sunday, October 13, will be delivered in junction–by–junction phases between 10pm and 5am each night or 7am at weekends over 31 nights.

Where possible, the work will be done with any closures restricted to lane and junction slip roads rather than full carriageway closures and the hard shoulder will be open to traffic instead with a 50mph speed limit in place. Slip road closures will involve signed diversions mainly using the motorway network.

The only full carriageway closure will involve the eastbound and westbound carriageways of the motorway between Switch Island and junction 1 with a diversion in between junction 1 of the motorway and junction 6 of the M57 using the A506.

Highways Agency project sponsor Jakub Malaj said: "This is an important project to tackle potholes and other issues across the whole length of the M58 and to ensure drivers can continue to enjoy safe, smooth and reliable journeys.

"We are not anticipating any significant delays and as the work is in phases many drivers may not even come across any roadworks at all – and if they do clearly–signed diversions will be in place."

TV screens and microwave meals – but strictly No Dogs!

BY the time you read this I should have returned from my latest trip on the rivers and broads of Norfolk and Suffolk.

But just before we set off on our holidays I was walking Tina and got to thinking of one big difference between the Broads area and here – the fact that there I could take Tina into virtually any pub and be made welcome.

It's not that many years ago that dogs were welcome in most of the pubs around here, too. Now it's difficult to think of any.

I remember going into a pub in Norfolk with my then dog several years ago and commenting on how nice it was that dogs were allowed in. The landlord said he had no objection to well–behaved dogs, pointing out that they didn't wreck the toilets or throw glasses.

"There's only one problem with dogs," he said, and my heart sank. "They've got no bloody money!"

In the Broads area, of course, dogs are actually welcome partly BECAUSE of money. Many of their customers, whether on boats, in caravans or camping, are there because they have a dog (or dogs). Naturally there are one or two snobby pubs that don't allow them, but oddly enough they are rarely the really best ones.

Now I don't censor any licensee who doesn't want to have dogs. It's his (or her) house, after all. What does annoy me is telling porkies to justify their decision. "We do food so it's illegal to have dogs in here," is a standard mantra.

Well, no it isn't – as any Norfolk pubkeeper will tell you. It is illegal to have animals in the area where food is prepared, NOT where it is eaten.

If they simply said: "People eating in here don't like to see dogs present so, sorry mate," I'd understand and feel no animosity towards him or her.

I remember my dad's local 30–odd years ago, back in the time of Tina 2 (the present one is Tina 4.) At that time the dog often accompanied us to the pub, where Tina was a firm favourite – because of the establishment's door.

It was one of those heavy, revolving things that needed a hefty shove to get them going. Tina soon sussed this out and her party piece was to get into the nearest 'compartment' of the door, put up her front paws and push, travelling round to get in, or out.

Some of the clientele were so fascinated by this that Tina was sometimes in demand going out and then in again to amuse those who had never seen this feat.

In fact, looking back I can't think of a pub in my native Maghull which didn't allow dogs in my younger days. Even when food became all–pervasive, dogs were still allowed in the public bar.

Now, all the small rooms and nooks and crannies that marked so many of the pubs I knew and loved have gone, knocked into one huge open space with far fewer seats, five or six TV screens, microwaved pub grub – and no public bar (with public bar prices) of course.

I'm not even sure that folk aged over 25 are allowed in at all to some of them – but of one thing I am certain – No Dogs.

National gets another 'ginger' connection

Drinks firm sponsorship deal sees first £1 million purse

by Henry James

GINGER–BEER maker Crabbie's has been unveiled as the new official title sponsor of the Grand National and Grand National Festival at Aintree.

Crabbies, owned by Halewood International based in Huyton, already has a close relationship with the area.

The firm's founder, the late John Halewood, lived in Birkdale, and also owned the Ginger McCain–trained Amberleigh House, winner of the 2004 Grand National and the 2001 Becher Chase.

The three–year deal between Crabbie's and Aintree will see the world's most famous steeplechase run for a £1 million purse for the first time.

The Grand National is one of the crown jewel events in British sport and provides Crabbie's with a platform to reach a UK terrestrial television audience of around nine million on Channel 4 and an estimated 600 million people worldwide, as well as more than 150,000 people over the three days of the Crabbie's Grand National Festival from Thursday to Saturday, April 3 to 5 2014.

Judy Halewood chairwoman of Halewood International with Amberleigh House

The partnership renews Crabbie's owner, Halewood International's, longstanding relationship with Aintree and racing on a wider level.

Southport–born McCain also trained Grand National legend, Red Rum on the town's beach. Rummy won the National three times and also finished runner–up twice.

John's partner and now chairwoman of Halewood International, Judy Halewood is delighted with the sponsorship and that the family connection with the Grand National and racing continues to grow.

In the event's proud history, Judy is the only female trainer to have bred, owned and trained a runner, with her horse Harley finishing 12th in the 1991 race.

As part of the deal, Crabbie's receives naming rights for the three races over the Grand National fences during the meeting: the Crabbie's Fox Hunters' Chase (Thursday, Grand Opening Day), the Crabbie's Topham Chase (Friday, Ladies' Day) and the Crabbie's Grand National (Saturday, Grand National Day).

Affordable homes scheme launched

Housing group and council team up

Report by Henry James

A MULTI–million pound housing scheme, which will result in around 65 'affordable' new homes being built in the borough by 2016, has been launched.

Housing group Regenda will construct the homes in partnership with the borough council and properties will be for rent.

They will include a mix of family homes and bungalows that will be made available for rent in both urban and rural locations.

The investment totals almost £7,500,000 and includes grant funding from the Homes and Community Agency.

Regenda, which operates across the North West, aims to deliver 1,000 affordable new homes in the region by 2017.

A successful funding application to the government's £10bn Affordable Housing Guarantee Fund has ensured that around 65% of those properties are already secure.

Martin Davies Code NA

Martin Davies, Regenda's director of development, said: "We are very excited to be working in partnership with West Lancashire Borough Council to provide 65 new homes for the area.

"Although the exact locations have yet to be decided, the developments will provide much–needed high–quality affordable housing for local people.

"All the homes will be for rent and the council will have nomination rights to the properties."

Councillor Adrian Owens, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for housing (finance), regeneration and estates, said: "The council is committed to ensuring there is affordable housing for local people, and this large grant investment into our borough, over the next two years, helps us to continue to make progress on top of the achievements to date."

Councillor Val Hopley, portfolio holder for landlord services, added: "These new affordable homes will make a real difference to local people and it is a great tribute to the Regenda Group and our own Housing Strategy Service that the grant application was successful."

Woman sings praises of helpful locals after being reunited with treasured ring

By Henry James

A GRATEFUL woman from Skelmersdale has contacted the Champion to ask us to pass on her thanks to local people who rallied round to help her search for a treasured ring lost following a night out.

Jenny Wise was distraught when she discovered her eternity ring missing after a family meal at the Stanley Gate Inn in Bickerstaffe to celebrate both her sons' exam successes and her eldest son's 16th birthday.

The ring had been bought for her by her husband, following the birth of their first son.

After Jenny realised she had lost the ring, she said: "After frantically searching I couldn't find my ring. I rang the Stanley Gate Inn first of all and I was overwhelmed by the help I received from both the cleaner and the manageress.

"The manageress even helped me look through the restaurant's bins.

"We had also used two different taxi firms, Skem Seven 51555 and Hackney cab firm 51000, as transport for the night so I contacted them as well. Again, the staff at both firms were very helpful and finally, after a search in the Skem Seven taxi they found my eternity ring and returned it to me.

"The ring holds so much sentimental value for me and I'd like to thank all the people who went out of their way to help. Things like this just remind you that there are still good people out there."

Students aim to drive up health care standards

Edge Hill conference to highlight need for commitment and dedication

Report by Henry James

STUDENTS from Edge Hill University are aiming to encourage better standards of care in the health sector at a conference.

The student–led event, the second of its kind in the Merseyside and Cheshire area, will be trying to highlight the importance of commitment to care and dedication to looking after service users.

Organised by the university's Faculty of Health and Social Care, The Commitment to Care, the Courage to Act conference this Friday (September 6) aims to inspire fellow students and promote health and social care professionals and what they stand for.

Alison Jones, a third year mental health nursing student, said: "This has been a fantastic project to work on because I feel as though I've contributed to something that will motivate other students wanting to enter the health and social care field.

"I'm very proud of the profession and I know that we are all committed to improving the patient experience and driving up standards of care.

"This conference will help us spread important messages that no matter what role we're in, whether it's nursing, midwifery, social work, we all have one common goal – to make a difference."

The day has been designed to motivate and promote passion within the profession. Key themes have been adapted from the Chief Nursing Officer for England, Dr Jane Cummings' Compassion in Practice strategy and vision based on the 6Cs – care, compassion, competence, communication, courage and commitment.

Students have arranged for a number of high–profile key speakers to present at the event, including Jane Cummings, Helen Bevan, Chief of Service Transformation, NHS Institute for Innovation and Improvement, and Professor Michael Lavalette, Head of Department for Social Work, Care and Justice at Liverpool Hope University.

The event is open to all students from health and social care programmes from Edge Hill University, the University of Central Lancashire, the University of Liverpool, the University of Chester, and Liverpool John Moores University and is free to attend.

Health and social care students from a university not listed above can email conferences@edgehill.ac.uk to be placed on a reserve list.

The cast of Southport's 2013 Panto Code NA

Queen of Clean Kim sweeps in for launch of panto

THE CAST have donned their gowns, Fairy Starlight is polishing her wand and Jack is ready to face the beanstalk.

It is, of course, that time of year again when pantomime returns to entertain hundreds of adults and children alike throughout the Christmas period.

And at Southport Theatre Queen of Clean Kim Woodburn and Steps star Lee Latchford–Evans will take to the promenade stage in December for Jack and The Beanstalk.

They will be joined by veteran panto stars Paula Bell, Tara Wells, Jamie Greer and Nick Newbould.

Speaking at the official launch, Kim Woodburn, who plays Fairy Starlight, told our reporter: "Im thoroughly excited to be performing in Southport.

"I had a smashing time working with the producers last year so couldn't wait to get involved yet again.

"The cast are just fabulous as well. I've not had long to get to know them yet but they are so so wonderful.

"My character, Fairy Starlight, will have a mix of niceness and naughtiness. The audience will love it I'm sure."

The cast will take part in 27 performances starting in December. Tickets start from £9.50.

Library users' chance to 'save with Jamie'

Report by Henry James

LIBRARY users in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale will have the chance to learn some money–saving cooking skills from TV chef Jamie Oliver – for free.

A copy of Jamie's new book, Save with Jamie, has been donated to every library in the UK, including all 74 Lancashire libraries.

The 38–year–old TV chef has been in the news recently over controversial comments about the work ethics of British restaurant staff as compared to those of European immigrants and about UK families trapped in "modern–day poverty" who he claimed spend money on giant TVs rather than healthy food.

Commenting on the new scheme, he said: "We know from the fabulous work that libraries do every day that everyone deserves a chance to learn basic skills that can improve everyday lives.

"Reading and cooking are two of those skills for sure. I'll admit I've been a late developer with the first, but I can definitely help with the second."

The giveaway has been organised by Penguin Random House and Jamie Oliver, in partnership with the national charity The Reading Agency. The aim is to make a cookbook about exciting food that doesn't 'break the bank' available to everyone, not just to the people who can afford to buy it.

Skelmersdale West County Councillor Julie Gibson, who is lead member for libraries and cultural services, said: "I'm sure the books will be an enormous help to people, especially those with young children, who are trying to prepare tasty, nutritious food on a tight budget.

"If you'd like to borrow a copy of the book but are not yet a library member, don't worry – it's really easy to join. You can either go along to your local library or you can join online. It's free and you don't need any ID.

"Once you've got your library card, you can use it at any library in Lancashire."

The Save with Jamie gift is the latest example of the reading experiences made available to libraries around the country through The Reading AgencyR 17's publisher partnerships programme, which is supported by the Society of Chief Librarians and 43 publishers.

You can join Lancashire's library service online at www.lancashire.gov.uk/libraries.

Trading standards issue sunbeds safety warning

County watchdog aims to raise awareness among 'tan fans' and salons

Report by Henry James

SUNBED users are being warned that that 'healthy' tan they crave might not be so healthy after all.

The warning follows checks carried out by county council watchdogs in which a number of tanning salons were found to be using sunbeds which failed safety standards.

And although tests have so far only been carried out in the north of the county, other areas will be targeted in the coming months as officials fear the problems may be more widespread.

Trading standards officers tested the UV radiation levels of 37 sunbeds which were available to the public in 14 businesses across Lancaster and Morecambe and a high number failed safety checks.

Only seven sunbeds (19%) were found to comply with product safety standards that impose a maximum UV emission of 0.3W/m2, which is equivalent to the summer midday sun in the Mediterranean.

A total of 18 sunbeds (48%) were found to be at least two times over the limit, while five (13%) were found to be at least three times over the limit.

Businesses which failed the safety test have been warned and instructed to lower UV emissions to acceptable levels or face possible legal proceedings.

The World Health Organisation warns against the use of cosmetic sunbeds due to the adverse effects on health including skin cancer, eye damage and premature skin ageing.

Cancer Research UK studies have found that the main cause of skin cancer is overexposure to UV radiation.

Alarming

County Councillor Janice Hanson, Lancashire's cabinet member for public protection and waste, said: "The number of tanning salons whose sunbeds have failed these tests is quite alarming.

"Whilst work so far has been focused in Morecambe and Lancaster, the problem is likely to be more widespread and we'll be carrying out tests in other areas in the coming months.

"However, we want to take this opportunity to highlight the problems we have already encountered.

County councillor Janice Hanson Code NA

"Whilst the high failure rate is of great concern, we are hoping that the work will increase awareness both with sunbed users and tanning salons.

"Public safety is of utmost importance and these results show that Lancashire residents need to exercise care if they are planning to use sunbeds.

"I would also urge businesses to take steps to ensure that their sunbeds comply with UV limits and that sunbeds with excessive UV emissions are not made available to the public."

Lancashire County Council's Trading Standards Service will be writing to all businesses that make sunbeds available to the public to alert them to the test results and ask them to check theirs are safe.

Boatman's illustrated talk in aid of heritage group

AN illustrated talk entitled 'The Life of a working boatman' will be the subject of the next monthly meeting of the Burscough Heritage Group at The Ring O'Bells pub in Lathom, starting at 7pm on Monday, September 9.

This will be given by Derek Bent, who has worked on the inland waterways for more than five decades.

Originally from a mining family in Wigan, he is currently owner and operator of two of the former H and R Ainscoughs barges built in the 1930s to transport grain from Liverpool docks to the flour mills at Burscough and Parbold.

Mr Bent delivers fuel supplies to boaters on the Leeds and Liverpool canal.

All are welcome to attend for a donation of £2 towards the heritage group. For more info call Mike on 07505 120453 or Sandra on 07966439701.

Peter's 'timely' achievement!

A KEEN golfer is celebrating after joining the coveted 'hole–in–one' club – and winning himself a new watch into the bargain.

Peter Naylor, 61, scored his ace while taking part in a competition at his 'home' venue, Ormskirk GC.

The 12–handicapper's magic moment came on the 135–yard, par–three 14th hole, earning him the watch, courtesy of German watchmakers, Boss.

The company are giving watches to every golfer who records a hole in one during an official club competition between April 15 and October 31 this year.

Stephen Brydon, commercial director for the company's UK distributor, said: "To the majority of amateurs, recording a hole in one will be the most memorable thing they achieve in golf – yet all many have to show for it is a dent in their bank balance after buying a round of drinks! We aim to make it a lot more memorable by presenting them with an exclusive hole–in–one watch."

Good news for the housing market

HOUSE prices appear to be on the up for the first time in five years and with the government doing what they can to help first time buyers, the housing market seems to have a rosy future.

Local independent mortgage advisers, Freshfield Mortgages, based in Formby celebrated their 10th birthday this month and can advise on all aspects of the house buying process.

Freshfield Mortgages works alongside local estate agents and solicitors providing independent advice from the whole of the market.

Paul Gardner, a self employed adviser who has been with the company nearly four years says: "There has never been a better time to purchase your first home or to look at re-mortgaging from your existing lender and with so many options available, it is more important than ever to speak to an independent advisor.

> We need a quote to go in here only needs to be one relevant sentence etc

"There continues to be some excellent rates on offer, particularly for fixed rate mortgages and house prices too seem to be up with an average price of £170,825 across the UK, equating to an annual rise of 3.9%."

Paul added: "Here at Freshfield Mortgages, we are also receiving more enquires about the government Help To Buy Scheme.

"Under the first part of Help to Buy, applicable to new homes worth up to £600,000, buyers put down a five per cent deposit and receive a 20 per cent government equity loan, which is interest-free for five years.

"The second element of Help to Buy, set to launch in January, is a £130bn mortgage indemnity scheme for new and existing homes, where the Government guarantees up to 15 per cent of the purchase price, with the borrower putting down a deposit of between 5-15 per cent."

He added: "People may decide that it's time to move house, could require further funds for renovations that may add value (and improve quality of life) within their current property.

"Or quite simply, they may want to seek out a better deal than their current borrowing arrangements.

"We recognise that a lot of people probable lead a busy life and have little time for in-depth research, and managing the whole process themselves. That's why so many borrowers continue to turn to professional advisers to help them through what can still be a fairly complicated mortgage maze."

Paul is relatively new to the BNI group and is a member of the Platinum Chapter, who meet in the Pioneer Bar in Crosby every Friday morning.

He said: "I have been in BNI since November last year and wish I had joined sooner. "The chapter is made up of like-minded individuals who are there to generate more business.

"Since joining, I have had several referrals from fellow members that have turned to business that I would not otherwise have got.

"I would recommend any small or medium sized business to consider joining."

Festival month diabetes advice for Jewish community

Report by Danielle Thompson

A DIABETES charity is hosting an awareness month to offer advice to members of the area's Jewish community as they celebrate three festivals this month.

Diabetes UK will be encouraging everyone with diabetes in the Jewish community to talk to their rabbi about healthy eating as the three major Jewish festivals during September – Rosh Hashanah (Jewish New Year), Simchat Torah and Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement) – focus on fasting or feasting.

Rosh Hashanah, on September 5, and Simchat Torah on September 27, are both traditionally celebrated by feasting.

Both these celebrations can be daunting for people with diabetes, but Diabetes UK will be spreading the message that having the condition doesn't mean that people cannot have traditional festive foods and even sweet foods can be enjoyed in moderation by everybody.

Yom Kippur, on September 14, can be challenging for someone with diabetes, as the festival involves a 25–hour fast.

Prolonged periods of fasting could cause blood glucose levels to drop too low or rise too high, and Diabetes UK will be urging people with diabetes to talk to their healthcare professional or rabbi about their situation.

For more information speak to your healthcare professional or call the Diabetes UK Careline on 0845 120 296.

Revamped retail site full ahead of schedule

Fashion and homeware brands among suppliers at new outlet

ALL retail space has now been allocated to suppliers who applied to be part of the transformation of the Websters of Tarleton site.

The owners of Ena Mill in Atherton, who will re–open the store this month, have revealed the shop–full confirmation six weeks ahead of schedule.

The store will re–open under a new name featuring some of the UK's biggest fashion and homeware brands including Yankee Candles, Sheridan Bedding and Royal Worcester.

More than 10 contractors are transforming the 10,000 square–feet retail site during a £100,000 five–week development.

The new outlet will create more than 25 new jobs and focus on famous fashion brands and high–quality homeware and gift concessions.

For the new store, Jonathan Addis, said: "We're delighted with the response we have received from brands to our vision for Tarleton. Their support, enthusiasm and commitment has exceeded all our expectations.

"We had a wish list of suppliers we wanted involved. And we got them all.

"All we need now is for the people of Lancashire and the North West to come and see what all the fuss is about when we re–open in September. We've been backed by some of the biggest names in retail. And we want shoppers to come and enjoy what we're creating.

"We've seen the impact of how Ena Mill has brought people into Atherton. And now we hope to do the same thing again here in Tarleton."

The 50–covers Whittles Farm restaurant, plus the coffee shop on the site, continued to trade throughout the refurbishment period.

Once the store re–opens the restaurant and coffee shop will be remain under the management of Jonathan Webster, Ann Palmer and head chef, Simon Jackson.

Award winning Slimming World consultant opens brand new morning group in Upholland

112017

A weight-loss expert from Upholland is set to open a brand new morning group to help reach more people in the area and help with their weight loss dreams. Award winning Consultant Sarah Lee who has more than 100 people in the area attending her groups wants to help more people to lose weight every week.

Sarah, who runs the Upholland evening group, is set to open an UPHOLLAND MORNING GROUP. She relaunched the Upholland evening group in April 2012, which has gone from strength to strength, regularly helping 100 members or more, week after week because they're losing weight beautifully and wouldn't miss the support, help and understanding from their weekly group for anything

She says: "I was delighted when I was given the opportunity to re launch the group. I feel passionately about helping people to transform their lives by losing weight. Losing weight made me feel happier and healthier and gave me so much more confidence. I became a Consultant because I wanted to share that feeling and help other people to achieve the same success I had myself. Seeing the members in my groups – mums, dads, grandmas and young people too – reach their target weight is so rewarding and receiving this award is just the icing on the cake. Now I want to help reach even more people by opening a brand new group."

"The members are the ones who make our groups the success that they are, with their fabulous commitment, the wonderful support they give each other every week, and, obviously, their impressive weight losses while following Slimming World's Food Optimising eating plan.

"The Upholland group has really put healthy weight loss on the map in the area. Obesity is at record levels everywhere and with 24.6 per cent of adults and 11.7 per cent of children in West Lancashire being affected, many people here are suffering a range of weight-related health problems from diabetes to heart problems and feelings of low self-worth that impact on their working and personal lives every day. It's never been more important that overweight people get the support to make changes to and lead healthier lives – both for themselves and the future generations, their children, too."

Sarah says: "I'm over the moon to be opening the new morning group - I have a fabulous job that I love and 100's of great friends in the members. I'm very lucky and I truly believe I have the best job in the world."

To join the new Upholland morning group held every Tuesday at the Methodist Church, Alma Hill at 9.30am or our evening group, which is held every Wednesday at 3.45pm, 5.30pm or 7.30pm also at Upholland Methodist Church. Either pop along or give Sarah a call on 07969 395 302.

Slimming WORLD
because you're amazing

112194

Catherine loves Slimming World because …

New Bride and West Lancashire Slimming World member Catherine Metcalfe recently has lost 3stone 7lb to reach her target weight. Here's why she loves Slimming World …

"I joined Slimming World in November 2012 with 6 months to my wedding. Any weight loss would have made me happy as being size 14-16 I just wanted to be a slimmer bride! With a half stone weight loss in my first week I knew I was onto a winner! The weight continued to drop off without me ever going hungry! Within 3 weeks I'd lost a stone and a dress size down!

Losing weight with Slimming World was so easy - I was eating a lot of my favourite foods, just cooked in a different way, I've also tried loads of new foods, which I've really enjoyed. And I love that I can still indulge in a chocolate bar every single day. I now feel like I'm set up for life, and I'll be able to teach my own future family how easy it is to eat healthily!

After just 26 weeks I was 3 stone 3lb lighter for my wedding, fitting into my dream wedding dress size 8 I felt the most beautiful bride ever!

I've got loads of valuable support from my Consultant and the rest of the group. When I lost half a pound, I thought, there you go it isn't worth all the changes I've made. But with the support and encouragement of my Consultant and my group we worked out where I'd gone wrong I came back the following week with a 4.5lb weight loss and Slimmer of the Week and it was a complete revelation.

In just 7 months, with the help and support of my lovely Slimming World group I shrunk to a size 8/10 and I achieved my Target weight in 40 weeks losing 3 stone 7lb, I feel fantastic The way I look at it, women spend the time getting their hair cut, nails done, shopping for clothes and even cooking every day; why not spend just an hour a week learning about eating for long term health and getting the support and inspiration to have so much fun doing so."

Catherine's menu for success: Breakfast: Bowl of Bite sized shredded wheat with chopped up strawberries over the top; Lunch: Bowl of home made leek and potato soup followed by a Muller light yoghurt and fresh fruit; Dinner: Steak and Slimming World chips with broccoli and carrots and Slimming World peppercorn sauce; Snacks: Curly Wurly.

A BUDDING tennis star from Aughton has served up an ace by winning a prestigious local tournament.

Jamie Treanor, a member of both Ormskirk Tennis Club and Southport Argyle Tennis Club, is celebrating after winning the Southport and District Under–16s Boys Open Tennis Championship.

In the final Jamie scored a straight sets success over, Nathan Thistlewaite, taking the first set 6–2 but being pushed all the way in the second before clinching it 7–6.

More than 20 talented youngsters from clubs throughout the region entered the tournament and Jamie was delighted by his success.

Council unveils range of countryside activities to enjoy

Report by Danielle Thompson

SUMMER might be almost over but there's still lots for families to enjoy in West Lancashire's parks and countryside.

That's the message from West Lancs Council as it unveils a range of activities being held in the borough throughout September, from searching for bats to learning woodworking skills.

Councillor David Sudworth, the council's portfolio holder for health and leisure, said: "September is a great time to visit our local parks and countryside as summer turns to autumn and there are also some great events for people to enjoy."

Nature lovers can take a walk and enjoy a talk with a bat expert and the council rangers to find out all about the bats living in Coronation Park, Ormskirk on Saturday, September 7 from 7pm. Bat detectors will be used and members of the public should take a torch if they have one.

Meanwhile, volunteers can help with a clean–up at Tawd Valley Park, Skelmersdale on Saturday, September 14.

They should meet the rangers at Summer Street at 10am. As it is likely to be muddy in places you are advised to wear suitable footwear and clothing.

A professional craft worker will be teaching traditional countryside skills at the Beacon Country Park Woodland Crafts Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, September 21 and 22.

Taking part in the weekend will cost £50.

On the first day the craft worker will teach people basic greenwood working techniques to enable them to make a spatula.

And on Sunday those taking part in the course will use techniques they have already learned plus some new ones to make a rustic stool to take home.

Sessions on both days last from 10am to 4pm. Booking is essential and can be done by phoning the ranger service on 01695 622794.

Coronation Park hosts a Creepy Crawly Night Walk on Saturday, September 21, starting from 8pm.

Accompanied by a local moth expert, visitors can take a closer look at the many mini beasts and moths that live in the park – take a torch if you have one.

Children under 16 require adult supervision at all of these events.

For further information about parks and countryside events you can contact the Ranger Service at Beacon Country Park on 01695 622794 or Coronation Park on 01695 570258; via email to Beacon.Park@westlancs.gov.uk or by visiting the West Lancs Council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/leisure

West End musical coming to city

Rent – 20th Anniversary Concert will be coming to The Auditorium at Echo Arena Liverpool on Saturday, November 30.

Commenting on the show Natasha Hamilton, who will be playing the role of lesbian performance artist Maureen; made famous by Idina Menzel, Nicole Sherzinger and Denise Van Outen said: "I love Rent so I am made up to be playing the role of Maureen! She's a great character a little bit cheeky, flirtatious and injects some real comedy moments into the show."

While Rory Taylor said: "I had the most amazing time on tour with Rent – 20th Anniversary Concert in April and I am so excited that the public want more! I can't wait to get back on the road and play the role of Roger again."

Natasha Hamilton is one third of Atomic Kitten, the UK's most internationally successful girl group of the last ten years with more than 10 million worldwide record sales.

Set in the East Village of New York City, RENT is about falling in love, finding your voice and living for today. It is the winner of the Tony Award for Best Musical and the Pulitzer Prize for Drama. The musical is based loosely on Puccini's La Boheme, and follows a year in the life of a group of friends struggling to make it in the big city under the shadow of HIV/AIDS.

Rent includes songs Seasons of Love, Out Tonight, Without You, Will I and Finale B.

Rent last toured the UK in 2001 and was last in the West End in 2007.

A film of the musical was released in 2005 starring original Broadway cast members Idina Menzel and Adam Pascal.

The shows composer Jonathan Larson died unexpectedly the morning of Rent's first Off–Broadway preview. Larson died of an aortic dissection believed to have been caused by undiagnosed Marfan syndrome.

The Broadway production closed on September 7, 2008 after a 12–year run of 5,124 performances, the ninth–longest–running Broadway show of all time. The production grossed over $280 million.

PRAYER

Thanksgiving Novena to St. Jude

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your aid, Amen
Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glorias. Publication must be promised. This Novena has never been known to fail.

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours.
This time I ask for one special favour.

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted. Never to be failed.

Instructions:
Light your candle and declare out loud what miracle you need right now. Repeat this prayer 9 times for 9 days. Do this at the same time each day, never skip a day. Audi tailgator brigade ruin roads

Life On Cars

DAVID SIMISTER

www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

An increasingly familiar sight in rear view mirrors across Britain Code NA

DID you hear about the new species scientists discovered the other day? Apparently, there's a new type of shark, which has emerged in a remote spot of sea just off Indonesia, which 'walks' along the ocean floor.

In the interests of science, I'd like to put it to the boffins at the Natural History Museum that I've found its motoring equivalent, right here in the UK.

The Greater Spotted Tailgater, or Secuutus Major to give it its scientific Latin name, has existed for decades in the warm, inviting habitat of motorway outside lanes for generations.

Specifically, the Greater Spotted Tailgaters who drive Audis.

Not that long ago, history will recall, Audis were driven by nice people who wanted something a tiny bit tidier than the equivalent Volkswagen.

My late granddad had a 100 Avant and it really was the epitome of respectable middle classness, a useful, family–friendly estate without the antique dealer connotations of its Volvo and Mercedes contemporaries.

At that time, the Greater Spotted Tailgater's wheels of choice were 3 Series and 5 Series BMWs, and you knew when you saw the Munich motors' quad headlights flashing at you from behind that you were incurring their wrath.

Things, however, have changed, and I blame the Audi TT.

Ever since the gorgeously swoopy coupe started gracing the showrooms 15 years ago, the rest of the range has basked in the glow from its chrome detailing and become a bit cooler as a result, bit by bit attracting the sort of people who used to buy BMWs.

The figures speak for themselves; in the past year alone, Audi sales are up by almost 10%.

The sales rises, combined with ever sharper and more aggressive styling updates, means something that's struck me every time I've ventured out onto a motorway's outside lane in the past two years – almost immediately you are swamped by tailgaters in cars with four rings on their radiator grilles.

Don't get me wrong; there are still lots of nice people happily trundling to the shops and back in their Audis, in the same way it was wrong to label every BMW owner as a lane–hogging loon ten years ago.

Yet the tailgating brigade have, by and large, taken up Audis as their wheels of choice, and the range is a bit less on my motoring radar as a result.

If I had a pound for every time an Audi driver has sat two feet off my back bumper, I'd have roughly £13,790 by now.

Which, incidentally, is the entry level price for an A1.

New generation Eco Toyotas to be rolled out next year

Toyota now sells six different hybrid models Code NA

TOYOTA has vowed to usher in a new generation of more eco–friendly hybrid engines into into its model rang next year.

The Japanese giant said it will use this month's Frankfurt Motor Show to announce a new generation of part petrol, part electric powerplants in its model range, which will be around 10% more efficient than previously.

The firm said in a statement:"Toyota will spearhead a new era in hybrid technology with its next generation Prius, promising further gains in fuel economy and reduced emissions.

"These new powertrains will deliver significant improvements in fuel economy from a more compact package that is lighter in weight and lower in cost."

Following the introduction of the green technology in its Prius model in 1999, the company now sells no less than six hybrid models in the UK.

Richmond on a scoring spree

Burscough Richmond 5
Ambleside 1

RICHMOND had previously played five matches, winning just one, against Turton 3–1, with two draws and two defeats, but made mistake this time, Chris Andrews opening the scoring on 15 minutes.

The second goal on 25 minutes came via striker Murt who sent an excellent cross behind the visiting defence for midfielder Lee Morton to score at the far post.

Andrews then scored with a headed goal after a cross from winger Jimmy Hanson.

The visitors pulled a goal back and the home team had Murt sent off for two yellow cards on 65 minutes but Andrews sealed the the game with a quality finish before captain Lee McNabb put the icing on the cake when he lobbed the keeper.

Ormskirk cling on to title hopes after six wicket win

WITH two weeks remaining of the 2013 Liverpool & District Competition, Ormskirk remain in second place in the Premier Division after a high scoring six wicket home win over Maghull.

After deciding to bat first the visitors put 267–7 dec up on the board off 60 overs, with Donavon Pell top scoring with 148 whilst Chris Tonge weighed in with 37, with the pick of the bowlers being Martyn Farrell who took 6–69. In reply 4–84 from Ryan Swiers wasn't quite enough, as an unbeaten 103 from keeper Gary Knight and an undefeated 77 from John Armstrong saw the hosts romp to victory on 268–4 in just 43 overs.

Northern require ten points to clinch the title after a 78 run home win over bottom placed Hightown, where a John Wildman century (115 inc 18x4s & 2x6s), 39 from Davy Smith and an unbeaten 38 from Mark Walling allowed the hosts to declare on 220–3. In reply 5–45 from Tom Sephton (57 for the season) and 4–34 from Stephen Cole (59 for the season) helped dismiss Hightown for 142 with Guy Edwards (51) top scoring.

Fleetwood Hesketh are now 15 points from safety after a closely fought draw at home to Leigh, the visitors elected to bat and piled up 248–4 dec with Lancashire's Karl Brown (115) hitting his second successive century against the Marshsiders and Matty McKiernan scoring 87, whilst Paul Mullen took 3–96. In reply Neil Rimmer hit his second century of the season (103), Andrew Watts made 44 and Matt Collins 32 as the hosts just failed to reach their target and had to eventually settle for a draw on 234–9.

Southport & Birkdale lost by 15 runs at Highfield where the hosts were put into bat and bowled out for 201 (Hargreaves 52), thanks to 5–55 from Chris Firth and 3–44 from Craig Todd. In reply S&B had reached 89–1 thanks to Logan Weston (41) and Mark Fletcher (39) before a rush of wickets saw them slip to 106–5. However some lower order resistance from Nick Knight (31) and Scott Lees (25) then took S&B to 182–7 and in with a chance of victory, before the last three wickets fell for 4 runs and the visitors were all out for 186.

Ormskirk host New Brighton on Saturday.

• In the Second Division, Burscough were demolished at Sefton Park who clinched promotion with a 217 run victory.

The hosts opened up with a 173 run partnership between skipper Adam Irwin (97) and Richie Forsyth (81) before declaring after 46.5 overs on 269–6.

In reply 6–17 from Peter Kelly and 3–19 from Justin Greaves then helped demolish Burscough for 52 with Matthew White (12) the only player to reach double figures.

Skem target young in bid for bumper crowd

SKELMERSDALE United are hoping for a bumper gate on National Non–League day on Saturday when they host Frickley Athletic.

The club have given out 500 tickets to local schools giving entrance to an adult and child for just £1, writes Neil Letaherbarrow.

They are further inviting supporters of the bigger clubs who are without a game on Saturday because of England's World Cup games to come along and sample local football at its best.

Anyone attending the game that is a season ticket holder of any of the big local clubs, Everton, Liverpool, Manchester United, Wigan Athletic or others that bring along a season ticket for that club can have entrance for just £5. Chairman Paul Griffiths said: "We are always looking to attract new support and where better than the local schools, it is their town team and they are the football supporters of the future.

"As for the big clubs, we are finding an increasing amount of football fans are getting fed up with Premier League clubs and the way people are just a number, so I would like to invite them to come and have a look at Skelmersdale.

"I am sure they will see attractive football played in the proper manner. Plus they will be made welcome and are in no way a number."

Skelmersdale United manager Tommy Lawson has added some experience to his attack by signing former Football League centre forward Nick Rogan. The 29 year old played in the league for Fleetwood Town and has also played for Morecambe, Southport and Marine among other teams. He is highly rated and last season was Marine's top goalscorer with 17 goals.

Lawson has also signed Lloyd Dean, a prolific goalscorer for Garswood United in the Mid–Cheshire League.

Lawson said "Lloyd is a player I have had on my radar for quite a while, I have had him watched on a number of occasions, plus I have received some excellent reports about his form. I am really looking forward to getting wearing a Skelmersdale shirt; he could just be another Gary Burnett or Matty Hughes."

Linnets on way in Cup

West Didsbury & Chorlton 0
Burscough 3

LINNETS manager Derek Goulding had to have a defensive reshuffle ahead of this FA Cup tie, but thanks to great attacking play, the back line wasn't really tested, writes Adam Saint.

With the absence of Liam Dodd and Liam Duff through injury, Joe Camozzi was played at centre back and Chris Tyson pushed into the right back role.

The tone was set in the early stages as the visitors put pressure on the North West Counties team, with Liam Caddick heading wide after two minutes.

The home resistance was breached when a back pass was pounced upon by Linnets forward Jordan Williams, who finished coolly into the bottom corner from 18 yards.

The second half began in the same vain as the first as chances by Jordan Williams and Niall Cummins were stopped, but the game changed with the introduction of Phil Clarke.

Clarke, playing his first game of the season after suspension, created a goal with his first touch of the ball when he swung in a beautiful corner which was powered home by a great header from Paul Williams.

The game was put beyond doubt in the 82nd minute when Clarke placied an excellent through ball between to the two West centre backs to Mark Beesley, who calmly finished.

Dominant display

Droylsden 0
Skelmersdale United 3

A DOMINANT first–half at the Butchers Arms ground, saw United move to within two points of the top of the table.

Skem controlled the match with the breakthrough arriving in the 34th minute when Adam Morning side–stepped around a defender, and drove a curling shot with the outside of his boot, into the corner of the net.

Three minutes later Morning nipped past a defender then from a tight angle drove the ball at goal which the goalkeper could only parry and Rogan pounced on the rebound.

In added time Alan Burton drove the ball high into the net after a corner was helped on at the near post
